QUESTION TO BE ON BALLOT IN NOVEMBER

Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

There is something wrong with many innovations which you have to correct, or watch out for.

Take the new method of opening vienna sausage. You use to have a little key which you opened the can with. Now the can is made of aluminum and there is a tab on top which you pull open.

After the tab is pulled you just pull and a circle of aluminum gradually widens until the top of the can is completely open.

Now comes the trouble. If you hold the can with your left hand and pull with the right you pull the strip of aluminum right up to the end. If you keep pulling until it comes clear off, the strip acts like a spring and flicks go inside the can all over your clean shirt.

If you do not pull it clear off, then you have difficulty getting the vienna sausages out of the can. If a person had three hands the problem would be solved because then you could steady the end of the aluminum strip with the third hand and ease it off the can with no flicking taking place.

Another thing we have trouble with is the "easy close" type of bread wrapper. The lady on TV opens the loaf in a jiffy, takes out a slice or two of bread, then flips the easy close gummed tab back and the loaf of bread is sealed again.

In the first place when we open the loaf the tab usually tears in half and there is always a big piece of waxed paper that stays on part of the tab.

We think it would work better if the tab was longer with the long axis of the loaf so you could have some length to work with.

Milk cartons give us difficulty too.

We know that you are supposed to fold back the opening spout, then press on each side lightly to make the spout pop out perfectly for pouring.

But it does not work this smoothly.

We press back the two sides of the pouring spout, then press on the sides of the carton to make the spout pop out and what happens? Nothing.

We pull on each side of the spout to make the opening appear, but the machines are smarter than we are and have applied an extra dose of wax or plastic or whatever it is, right on the part that is supposed to pop open.

This calls for sterner measures such as using a knife to dig down into the spout to force it open.

Then we mash the top of the carton almost together all the while wrestling the carton across the table. Finally it gives and deluges everyone within five feet with homogenized pasteurized milk.

The glass bottle had many advantages in some respects. All we did then was to jam a knife handle down on the top and the milk went straight up and hit us in the eye.

Someone said that the population explosion is due to overbearing women.

Some folks are not happy unless they are creating discord.

"Governor," the lady said, "I want to get my husband out of prison."

"What is he in prison for?" asked the Governor.

"Stealing a ham," she replied.

"Is he a good husband?" the Governor asked.

"No sir. He drinks, he beats the

Naked Boy Survives Two Day Ordeal On Kentucky Lake

BIG SANDY, Tenn. (UPI) — A naked boy lost for two days during a woods survival test was picked up today while trying to make a four-mile swim back to camp.

Rescue squad members said the boy was put on a snake infested island on Kentucky Lake with only a flashlight, two signal flares and a pair of sneakers.

Bill LeBlond, 11, of Cincinnati, Ohio, was apparently in good condition when picked up by rescuers. He was admitted to a hospital for observation.

He had been swimming for hours and had gone about three miles, according to the Coast Guard.

"It seems it was an initiation of some description," said Henry County Deputy Sheriff Alvin Wall. "It was out of order as far as I'm concerned."

The head of the rescue squad, J. E. Weddle, said the 250-acre island was infested with snakes, bobcats and other wildlife and is part of a national game preserve.

Weddle said two counselors took the youth to the island, lit a fire and stacked firewood for him, and told him he would have to spend Tuesday night alone.

Weddle said the counselors then hid behind a hill about 200 yards away to spend the night in case of trouble.

The curly-haired camper, a tall, chunky boy who was one of three brothers at the summer camp, was resting in "satisfactory" condition and the hospital would allow no telephone calls to his room.

A. J. Taggart, operator of Camp Running Bear, said the boy was never in danger. He said LeBlond was put on Big Sulphur Well Island for a survival test to earn a new rank at the camp, which runs six weeks.

"He thought he was alone but we had counselors watching him from 200 yards away," Taggart said.

Taggart said the counselors were supposed to pick the boy up at 8 a.m. Wednesday but when they got to the scene the boy was gone.

Camp officials searched the island Wednesday and called the Coast Guard and Paris rescue squadron when they couldn't find young LeBlond.

"The sun comes up pretty early this time of year and he apparently decided to go back to camp on his own," Taggart said. The youth walked around the island Wednesday then began his four-mile swim during the night, Taggart said.

"He was never in danger. Long distance swimming is part of our curriculum here," Taggart said.

Child Haven Homes Will Go Into Operation On Monday

After many weeks and months of planning and hard work the Murray Parent-Teacher Association announced today that all applicants for Child Haven Homes have been carefully screened. The ones which were accepted and approved by the screening committee will be notified and they will be given a deal to sign that it is a Child Haven Home.

The screening committee was composed of Chief of Police Herman Parker, Sheriff Woodrow Rickman, Superintendent of City Schools Fred Schultz, Juvenile Protection Chairman Prentice Lassiter, President of the Murray PTA Macon Blankenship, Chairman Mrs. Burie Garland, Murray High, Mrs. William McDougal, Austin, Mrs. Holmes Dunn, Carter, Mrs. Pete Rutledge, Douglas, and Mrs. John Perillo, Robertson.

All the applications will be filed for further reference. Homes were approved on the basis of their location, if there would be someone at home most of the time, if there was a telephone, the character of the occupants, etc.

Mrs. Garland said that if a home was not chosen, it does not necessarily mean that it was rejected, but that it is not needed at this time.

Ladies from the Murray PTA will begin working Monday morning to deliver and install the Child Haven deal along with instructions concerning the responsibility of the occupant of the Haven Home.

It will take only a short time to place the deal on the front door or window. Any questions will be answered by those working Monday.

Two hundred and fifty two homes have been chosen and they will be in operation for the year round, both winter and summer.

Those who are chosen are urged to discuss the program of the Haven Homes with the children and inform of the purpose. Haven Homes are being used as a protective measure for the children to use if they become ill while going to or from the home, in the event they become frightened for any reason, or have an accident.

These persons who have moved since filling out the Child Haven Home application are asked to notify Mrs. Burie Garland at 753-3724 or Mrs. Jo McDougal, 753-2380 at once.

Two Charged In Beer Sale On Wednesday

Two Fort Campbell soldiers appeared before Marshall County Judge John Rayburn yesterday afternoon on charges of selling or furnishing alcoholic beverages for sale in dry territory. Their case was continued until July 7.

Judge Rayburn said that the men — Richard Graham and Melvin Smith, both of Ft. Campbell — were released on bonds signed by their commanding officer.

Rayburn said that the men contended they were on government land at the time of their arrest by the county sheriff's department, and that they also demanded that the beer confiscated by the sheriff be returned.

The judge denied their request to return the beer.

The soldiers are accused of using a public bath house in Cherokee State Park as a distribution center for liquor sales.

Marshall Deputy Sheriff Joe Anderson said that while on patrol Tuesday night he saw what he regarded as an unusual amount of activity around a bath house in the park.

The deputy said he investigated and then ordered two bottles of beer, which he sold. He said he then left and obtained a warrant against the two soldiers who apparently were operating the "business." He returned to the scene with Marshall Sheriff Sam Myers.

The officers confiscated 86 cases of beer. Judge Rayburn said it was the largest single haul of illegal beer seized in the county's history.

Judge Rayburn said the deputy reported there was a price list for the beer posted on the wall of the bath house. He said two battalions of Fort Campbell soldiers were camped in the park.

Hardin Man Is Shot After Argument

Jerry Hicks, 22, of Hardin was hospitalized with a gunshot wound in the abdomen Wednesday after a quarrel with a service station operator, Marshall County Sheriff Sam Myers said.

Myers said the quarrel started over a messy rest room at the station.

Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hicks, was admitted to the Murray-Calloway County Hospital where he underwent surgery. The bullet entered the stomach wound was embedded or close to the backbone. He was reported in satisfactory condition following the operation to remove the bullet.

No formal charges have been lodged against Cecil Herndon, operator of the service station, said Myers.

Herndon told the sheriff that Hicks used the rest room and messaged it up considerably. When he approached Hicks about the mess, an argument occurred.

Herndon said Hicks threatened to beat him up and began taking swings at him. When he landed a blow on Herndon's shoulder, Herndon reportedly drew a pistol and shot him in the stomach.

The incident occurred around 5 p.m.

None Injured In Two Wrecks Yesterday

Two accidents were reported yesterday afternoon by the Sheriff's office. Deputy Dale Spann investigated both accidents.

At 1:00 p.m., Genella Mae Nesbitt of Hazel and Paul Franklin Roberts of Martin, Tennessee route two were involved in an accident four miles south of Murray on U.S. 641. Mrs. Nesbitt, driving a 1962 Pontiac was turning off of U.S. 641 when Roberts, driving a 1962 Ford one-half ton truck immediately behind her, braked his truck and skidded into the rear of the Pontiac.

The car was damaged on the rear deck lid, the bumper, and the left rear quarter panel. The truck was damaged on the bumper, grill, hood and the right front fender.

At 2:00 p.m., J. C. Foster of Puryear route three and a truck owned by the Laird Brick Company of Puryear were involved in an accident at the entrance to the old Rainey T. Wells estate.

The truck, traveling north, turned in the driveway as the car driven by Bruce Edward Chin came over the top of the hill. Chin braked his 1964 Plymouth and skidded into the rear of the truck.

No one was reported injured in the two accidents.

Voters To Decide On Form Of Government For The County

Voters of Murray and Calloway County will have the opportunity of deciding on a new form of County government in November when they cast their ballots on a question of whether to retain the present Magistrate form of government or to change to the Commission form of government.

The County government presently is formed of a County Judge and seven magistrates. Under The Commission form of government, the County government would be composed of a County Judge and three Commissioners.

Judge Robert O. Miller today said that the county would be divided into three districts if voters approve the issue, with a commissioner being elected from each district. A person seeking the office of Commissioner will have to live in the district which he plans to represent.

The election of County Commissioners is somewhat like the election of city council members, in that voters all over the county would be able to vote for any three candidates, regardless of their residence. The candidates receiving the most votes in each district would be the winners.

Presently the Magistrates receive $1200 each year. With the County Commission form of government, each of the three Commissioners would receive $3000 annually.

Counties having this form of government in this area include McCracken and Graves counties.

Other counties are Bath, Boyd, Davies, Fayette, Scott, Montgomery, and Mason.

Proponents of the commission form of government indicate that one advantage in this type of government is that three persons can work together better than a larger number can. They also point out that with a salary of $3600 a year being offered, more qualified persons will seek the offices, thus providing for better government.

A large number of persons and organizations have endorsed the Commission form of government in the belief that it would be a progressive step for Calloway County. In compliance with Kentucky law, County Judge Robert O. Miller issued the following order so that the question will be placed on the ballot in the November election.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

Q. I own a drive-in restaurant and employ several girls. One girl got married last month. Do I report her wages under her married name or her maiden name?

A. You should report her wages under her maiden name. The Social Security Administration will issue you a new card—same number, new name.

Q. My social security card shows my name as it was before I married. I have been employed for several months, but my employer reports my wages using my present married name. Will I receive credit for my wages?

A. Yes; however, you must change your name with the Social Security Administration so the wages reported for you by your employer can be properly credited to your account. You see, social security has no knowledge of your new name until you complete the proper form to change your name on your social security record. As for form GAAN-7000 of your social security office.

Q. Will I receive a new social security account number when I marry?

A. No. You keep the same number. Your name must be changed on your social security record. Fill out form GAAN-7000 at the social security office, and the Social Security Administration will issue you a new card—same number, new name.

Telephone Bill Will Be Lowered

Telephone bills will be lower starting January 1, 1966. Telephone bills in Murray and Aurora will be lower because the excise tax will be reduced. The federal excise tax on local and long distance telephone service.

"This is good news for telephone customers," said R. K. Carpenter, Southern Bell's manager here. "Because the entire savings from the reduction will go to telephone customers."

The first—and biggest—portion of the excise tax reduction goes into effect next year. Instead of the present 10 per cent, the rate will be 3 per cent beginning January 1. An additional 1 per cent will be removed each January thereafter until the tax is eliminated in 1969.

Southern Bell customers in Kentucky pay an average of $15.63 for federal excise taxes per year.

Carpenter stressed that the customer will receive the total benefit of these savings.

He explained that the excise tax is a tax on telephone customers, not on the telephone company. The tax is added to the customers bill and the company merely collects it and passes it on to the U. S. Government.

"Southern Bell has long thought that the federal excise tax on telephone service was discriminatory and unfair to our customers and we are pleased that it is being reduced and will be eliminated," said Carpenter.

At Last Aquirre Comes Out Of His Masquerade

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD
UPI Sports Writer

Hank Aquirre has pulled an elaborate hoax.

For 10 years the Detroit Tigers' left-handed pitcher has masqueraded as the "wreck" hider in the major league and has flashed an 977 lifetime batting average around to prove it.

The Minnesota Twins began to suspect something was fishy last week when Aquirre drove in the winning run against them with a bases-loaded single. Friday, Aquirre doubled and scored against Kansas City.

Now, the word was out that Aquirre, a switch-hitter, was a fraud in the batting box, but the Los Angeles Angels' coach, Alvin Dark, said he had never suspected the pitcher was anything but a "wreck" hider.

Dark, who has coached Aquirre since 1955, said he had never suspected the pitcher was anything but a "wreck" hider.

The league-leading Minnesota Twins upended Cleveland 6-3, Washington beat Chicago 5-1, then lost 5-0 in the second game of a double-header, Baltimore tripped Boston 6-4, and New York battered Kansas City 8-3, in other AL games.

The National League, Cincinnati topped St. Louis 6-2, Milwaukee beat Chicago 6-3 and San Francisco whipped Pittsburgh 6-1, in the only games scheduled.

Aquirre has five hits this season and four runs batted in for a .161 batting average—a personal high—and he boasts a three-game hitting streak.

More important, however, is Aquirre's improvement on the mound which could earn him "comeback of the year" honors in the American League. His triumph over the Angels was his ninth in 11 decisions this season and his fifth in a row.

During his current streak he has hurled two, three and four hitters, pitched two shutouts and four complete games. Quite a contrast to his 5-10 record of last season, when he was best with leg injuries.

Home Runs
A three-run pinch hit home run by Bob Allison and the five-hit pitching of Jim Madson, Grand for 8-13 innings enabled the Minnesota Twins to snap Cleveland's 10-game victory skid. Jimmy Hall and Sandy Valdespino also connected for the Twins and Rocky Colavito belted a round-tripper for the Indians before 5,553 in Cleveland. Jack Spring, the second of six Indians' hurriers, was the loser.

Meanwhile, the White Sox reclaimed second place on the seven-hit pitching of Johnny Bushardt, who had relief help from Gary Peters and Eddie Fisher in the nightcap. Ron Hansen drove in three runs with a bases loaded double and a single and scored another in support of Bushardt.

Pete Richter 5-5 scattered six hits in the opener and drove in a run with a single. He allowed only one Chicago baserunner after the fourth inning. Doug Camilli singled in two runs and Ed Brinkman plated two more with a triple for the Senators.

Whitford worked the first six innings to pick up his fifth consecutive triumph and seventh straight in Yankee Stadium. The Yankees decked starter Diego Segui for five runs in the first inning, including a two-run homer by Ray Barker, and three more in the second. Bobby Richardson collected three hits and singled in two runs for the Yanks. Steve Hamilton blanked the A's over the final three innings on two hits.

The Orioles scored three unearned runs in a five-run fourth off loser Jim Lonborg and Steve Barber held the Red Sox to one hit until the seventh when Carl Yastrzemski, Tony Conigliaro and Bob Tolan hit home runs. Stu Miller saved the victory for Barber 5-5.

Willie Mays Will Be Second To Babe Ruth Only As Career Ends

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Only Babe Ruth's majestic 714 will stand ahead of Willie Mays' lifetime home run total when the San Francisco Giant great calls it a career.

What seemed a few years ago to be a "mass assault" by modern sluggers on the old home run marks has become a one-man attack. Willie's 1965 spurge has sent him far in front of contemporaries like Mickey Vernon, Ed Mathews and Ernie Banks and by the end of this season he will be riding in on all but the great Bambino himself.

Mays hit his 22nd home run of this season and the 475th of his career in the Giants' 6-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday.

That homer tied him with Sam Masiel for second place in National League history and leaves only five sluggers in all baseball history with more homers — Lou Gehrig with 493, Mel Ott with 511, Ted Williams with 521, Jimmy Fox with 534 and Ruth with his all-but-unattainable 714.

Mays will pass Gehrig by hitting another 22 homers this season — the Giants have played 66 games and have 96 left — and at 407 would then stand within range of passing Fox's 534 for second place on the all-time list in 1966.

Until this season Mays, Mantle, Mathews and Banks all seemed to have a chance to wind up with between 500 and 600 homers. But only Mays is maintaining the pace. Mantle, injured and his career in doubt from day to day, has hit only 11 to raise his lifetime total to 465. Mathews and Banks each has hit 13 this year — Mathews increasing his total to 458 and Banks building his total to 380.

Mays hit No. 22 of 1965 leading off the second inning against Bob Vane Wednesday and also contributed a single to the 11-hit San Francisco attack that brought Ron Herbel his fifth win. Cap Peterson had three hits and Jim Davenport and Dick Bertell two each for the Giants.

LEANING TOWER LEANING

PISA, Italy (UPI) — The Leaning Tower of Pisa leaned another fraction of an inch during the past 12 months. But the engineer in charge of measuring the tilt said Wednesday the famed tourist attraction is in no immediate danger of toppling over.

"To say that it will fall down tomorrow or the next day seems a bit hasty," reported Prof. Silvio Bialini after completing his annual survey. He is head of the engineering school at the University of Pisa.

Bialini said the tower is now 4,494 meters—about 14 feet, 4 inches—off center. That is about a millimeter—0.4 inch—more than last year.

Miss Diana Elizabeth Nanney Is Married To William Thomas Lyons In Church Ceremony

Mrs. William Thomas Lyons

Amidst a lovely setting of flowers and candelabra at the Almo Church of Christ, Miss Diana Elizabeth Nanney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Nanney of Almo, was married to William Thomas Lyons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lyons of Murray, June 12, at six o'clock in the evening.

Miss Sue Tripp was the vocalist for the wedding and sang "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me." Recordings of the traditional wedding march were used for the professional and the recessional.

The altar was beautifully decorated with arrangements of yellow gladioli and greenery on each side of the wrought iron arch centered with a large wedding bell. Palm leaves and leaves were used and the tapered in the cathedral candleholders added elegance to the wedding scene.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported, hand-clipped tulle with lace over nylon net and taffeta, designed by Brides Original. The fitted bodice which was fastened with tiny self-covered buttons, featured a Sabrina neckline edged with scalloped lace. The long tapered sleeves came to calla lily points at the hands. The skirt of alternating tiers of hand-clipped lace and nylon net, the floor-length skirt terminated in a chapel train. The bride's shoulder-length veil of nylon tulle was caught to a hairband crown, enhanced with pearls and crystal aurora beads. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white carnations and bride's calla lilies.

Miss Sandra Harmon was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Marie Hoke and Miss Denise Nanney, the latter a sister of the bride.

The attendants were dressed in identical street-length gowns of yellow organza and wore hats of yellow tulle on their heads. They carried bouquets of large yellow gladioli and calla lilies.

Miss Sherry Haley was the flower girl and wore a yellow carnation. Warren Keith Hopkins, cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer.

The best man was Bobby Barron. The ushers were Rob Dick and Mike Howard, the latter a cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Nanney chose to wear for her daughter's wedding a powder blue lace dress with navy blue accessories. The groom's mother was attired in a black shantung dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Mrs. Carolyn Parker kept the register at the wedding.

Buffet Dinner

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding buffet supper was held at the Murray Woman's Club House.

The buffet table was covered with a lace cloth over yellow and centered with the beautiful arrangement of yellow daisies flanked by three tall yellow candles. The five-tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by the bride's mother, centered another lace covered table.

Those assisting in the serving were Mesdames John Ives, Sherman Borders, Howard Bucy, Elmo Bidwell, Marion Thompson, and James Haley. They each wore special yellow tea aprons, made by Mrs. Nanney and given to them as special gifts.

Twenty five bags were distributed for the guests to shower the couple as they left for a short unannounced wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a three-piece black and white checked ensemble with red accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyons are now at home at 565 South Sixth Street, Murray.

Out of town guests for the wedding included Mrs. Brona Vick of Ulica, Mich., Albert Nanney of Paris, Tenn., and Tommy Lee Walker of Memphis, Tenn.

Rehearsal Supper

The bride's parents were hosts for a buffet supper at their home following the rehearsal on Friday evening.

An arrangement of yellow lilies adorned the buffet table where twenty persons were served. The bridal couple presented gifts to their attendants.

Mrs. Joe P. James has been complimented with two stork showers recently.

The office staff of the Murray-Calloway County Hospital honored Mrs. James on Wednesday, June 16, with a shower at the home of Mrs. Kathryn Kyle on North Fourteenth Street.

Refreshments of cookies, made in the shape of storks and booties, and punch were served from the table covered with a yellow satin cloth and centered with an arrangement of white snowballs and yellow daisies.

Mrs. James was presented a corsage of white carnations. Fifty persons were present or sent gifts.

The second shower was held at the Kirksey Methodist Church on Saturday afternoon with Mesdames James V. Edwards of Clinton, Ind., Raymond Workman, Jack Cain, and Isahla Treas as the hostesses.

Mrs. James was presented a novelty corsage made of baby rattlers and opened her many gifts which had been placed on a table overlaid with a pink cloth under white lace. Games were played with Mrs. Max Hurt, Mrs. Verline Esell, Mrs. Herman Robertson, and Mrs. Hugh Johnson being the recipients of the prizes.

The hostesses served punch and cakes decorated with baby faces from the table covered with white lace over a pink cloth.

Sixty persons were present or sent gifts.

DEAR ABBY: As a new widow, I tell me the brother is too old for me because my aunt and uncle have ten years between them. I have never seen a happier couple. After three months all her friends had gone back to their own families and had forgotten her.

Widowhood is a "do-it-yourself" job. Don't expect married women to share their husbands with you during the evenings. Make plans to be with your women friends in the afternoon. Go to the church and find people in the same boat. — Jone-some. Get a hobby, or enroll in an adult education class and learn something new.

I've been a widow for five months. My friends are still very thoughtful, but I don't expect to be included and entertained just because I'm alone. I have learned that grieving is selfish. Try the child should be drinking from a cup at meals, but she should be allowed to keep her bottle for oral gratification at other times, until she voluntarily gives it up. I put up with bottles and pacifiers for this purpose until my children finally abandoned them at around age three. They never "graduated" to the "thumb" as some children do, and were thus spared possible dental problems. And perhaps by having relied on this early "crutch" to soothe their oral needs, they will be less likely to resort to more damaging habits in later life — cigarettes and excessive drink.
